Miners Foundry Here Completes Work For Bethlehem Steel Firm

LOCAL CONCERN FINISHES DREDGE LADDER FOR STEEL FIRM; MAY RECEIVE ADDITIONAL CONTRACTS

Bethlehem Steel is getting ready to use the Miners Foundry and Supply shops in this city for some of the overflow work entailed by a surfeit of defense contracts in Bethlehem's San Francisco plant.

In fact the Miner's Foundry has just about completed its first test order from Bethlehem, consisting of a dredge ladder. It would have been completed weeks ago had it not been for the machinists strike in the bay ship yards, which held up a shipment of cast steel parts that were to have been supplied by Bethlehem in the making of the ladder.

The dredge ladder, by the way, is that part of the big gold dredger which sticks out in the rear, like a pheasant's tail, and carries the endless chain of buckets which dig down and bring up the gold bearing gravel.

The superintendent of Bethlehem's mining machinery department was so pleased with the work of the Miners Foundry in fabricating the dredge ladder that he has practically assured Superintendent Dick Goyne of future contracts of a substantial character.

In recent weeks Goyne and his staff have been engaged in cleaning the two acres on which the Miners Foundry stands, in readiness for taking care of contracts or subcontracts that may result from congestion in bay area plants engaged in defense work. While the mining industry in California has, as a whole, reduced expenditures for new machinery or for expanding operations, Goyne reports considerable activity in Nevada and expects to participate in business originating there.

Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

Well, here's an opportunity for the Reds. With Hitler attacking Joe Stalin and his selected band of cuthtroats, every Red in this country should be given a chance to get over there to fight for the dirty, degenerate, stinking, vermin infested Soviets. Will they go willingly. A few perhaps. But most of them will stick right with the U. S. A., their heads buried in Uncle Sam's hide like wood ticks.

Already the chief communist daily of this country is yawping for Lend-Lease funds to hedp the red-handed butcher in the Kremlin out of the hole he has dug for himself. For it is to Stalin chiefly that we owe the German attempt at world domination. Had Stalin been anything more than the cunning thing that he is, with morals even of the bandit he once was, he would have cast in his lot with the British, and Germany would have had to wait a long while before starting on a career of plunder and loot. It may prove to the best interest of this country to help Stalin. But whatever help he gets will probably go by way of Great Britain. We hope that whatever aid Russia gets will be enough to keep them fighting and suffering as they made the Finns fight and suffer. We hope such help will be enough to encourage the Bear that walks like a man to keep fighting until this country produces enough airplanes to pulverize Germany. We are not much concerned whether Russia or Germany wins this new war. It would be cheering to see them keep at it, ad finitum.

A swift victory of Hitler's forces by which he could take over and operate the Ukraine, with its wheat fields, and manufacturing establishments and the great oil fields beyond, that feed to Black Sea ports, would give Germany a tremendous long range advantage against the British Empire and the United States. Whether it would this year give his troops a reprieve from short food rations and scanty oil supplies, may be doubted. But give the Germans time to organize Russian agriculture, industry and oil production, and they might be able to defeat the blockade which now begins to strangle them.

There seems no doubt that the looming food famine and shortening oil supplies forced Hitler to turn on his "friend." But the repercussions of this latest treachery may well have a world wide effect. Italy must wonder just what will happen to them with a partner who deliberately attemps to rape and slaughter the nation which gave him his initial power. As for France, what may that unhappy people expect as the ultimate result of cooperation with Hitler. In this country we already have the frightened yelps of the Reds, who have until now frantically engaged in sabotaging this country's war effort. Overnight

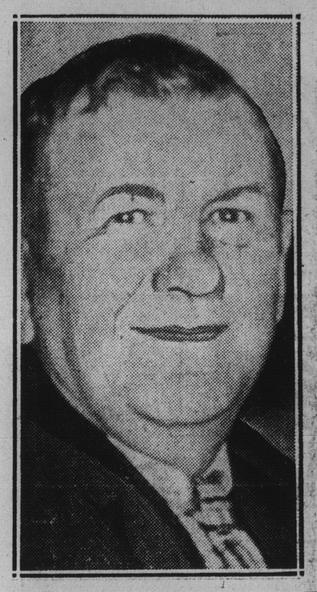
A Sad Man



Half the joy of living for H. F. Sofge, local chamber of commerce secretary, has vanished.

One of Sofge's ambitions was to catch a huge trout he had seen in Scotts Flat Reservoir for the past three years. Many of his idle moments were spent in seeking to lure the mammoth trout to a hook.

But now the trout is gone. E. W. Kendrick hooked the fish on what he said was his last cast after an unsuccessful—up to that time—day of fishing. The trout weighed six and one half pounds.

Abandonment Of WPA Hurts City; Nevada County May Force All Relief Recipients To Work For Their Money

The newly formed Nevada City Recreation Commission faces abolishment as the result of the discontinuation of all Works Progress Administration projects in Nevada City.

Mayor Ben Hall said he was informed by letter today that WPA work is to stop and he believes the recreation project for this city recently approved by WPA officials and city council, is included in the discontinuance order.

Nevada City was fortunate in completing the work on two of its bridges before the order for the discontinuation of WPA was reached.

The city crews will take over the job of widening the Gold Run Bridge, which was also to have been a WPA project. The city crews will also finish the widening of Pine Street from York to Commercial Street and will construct a new sidewalk and build a new wall in front of the library to replace the iron fence which was torn down. The work was started as a WPA project.

Mrs. Edward Bonner, president of the newly formed Recreation Commission, said she was not officially informed of the abandonment of the local recreation project. She announced if the project is abandoned, the coordinating council will meet to determine whether that body will sponsor a program of summer recreation at Pioneer Park.

Nevada County faces a situation probably more serious than that of Nevada City. The discontinuation of SRA will mean the county must take over all relief.

Chairman Cary Arbogast of the board of supervisors said the matter of relief will be the principal topic at the July meeting of the supervisors.

Those receiving relief, Arbogast said, will have to turn out work for what they get. It is probable the relief recipients will be put to work improving roads.

In any event, Welfare Agent Chas. Ingram, upon whose shoulder the handling of relief will fall, said the SRA has provided for relief recipients in this county until July 3rd.

The relief burden is not extremely heavy in Nevada County at the present time but will probably pick up during the fall and winter months. The county will be forced to handle all relief unless a special session of the legislature is called and relief funds provided by the state.

Mrs. Belle Douglass Gives Interesting Talk On Newspapers At BPWC Gathering Here

Mrs. Ruth Bonivert, chairman of the advertising committee served an excellent buffet dinner to the Nevada City Business and Professional Women's club members and their guests last night. Mrs. Belle Douglass spoke on Advertising as it was done in the midde 1800's. To tie in with the advertising theme, corsages made of newspaper were presented to each member and guest.

Mrs. Douglass said that people in the early days were very frank in their advertisements and names were published of those who did not pay their bills. Poetry and other fancy writing was used in the advertisements to attract attention.

One merchant advertised: "To keep your wife from running away with another man, take a cantalope home with you." Mrs. Douglass also related many other amusing incidents of early Nevada City life and briefly sketched scenes during the fire of 1856 and the tornado of 1867.

In closing Mrs. Douglass read a poem written by A. Merriam Conner, "In the Spirit of Old". The meeting was enjoyed by all those who attended.

It was announced that $75 was netted from the recent Dental Benefit Card Party and that 22 children have received dental attention. There are funds for four more days left and it is believed that much work can be accomplished in that time.

Dorothy Waggoner and Dorothy Thomas assisted Ruth Bonivert as co-hostesses for the evening.

Pilot Sets Airplane Down In Sierra Co. Apple Orchad

Residents of mountainous western Sierra County, treated to the spectacle of the first local airplane landing, breathed easier after W. H. Connell, Susanville flying instructor, skillfully maneuvered a new plane out of the Yuba River Canyon.

Connell, with Dale Soule, also of Susanville, was enroute to the Lassen County city from Oakland late Tuesday when a snowstorm forced the ship back. A forced landing between apple trees and tree stumps on a sloping field on the ranch of Mrs. A. C. Wright four miles west of Downieville, followed.

Before the ship was set down the fliers, barely skimming the tree tops, circled the comparatively open spot and called down to those on the ground asking if it were permissible to land.

Soule continued his trip to Susanville by automobile Tuesday night but Connell after one apple tree was removed, took to the ship's controls yesterday morning barely missed the other tree tops in his takeoff and soared out of the canyon.

The advance ticket sale for the dance has been heavy, assuring a large turnout. Chuck Jenkins and his excellent orchestra will supply the music.

Local Fourth of July Committee Meets To Plan Celebration Float Entries

Plans for Nevada City's part in the Fourth of July celebration in Grass Valley were discussed at a meeting of the local chamber of commerce Fourth committee here last night.

It was announced at the meeting seven floats have been pledged for the parade from Nevada City. Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen's Mounted Posse will participate.

An excellent float sponsored by the chamber here will be entered.

George Gildersleeve is general chairman of the local chamber's Fourth of July committee. Other members include L. W. Kopp, John Anargus, Frank Finnegan, Emmett Gallagher, Tom Lawrence, Fred Garrison, William Williamson, A. L. Lane, Guerdon Ellis, Si Sofge, and Mrs. Joseph Marriott.

U.S. Air Corps Entertainsat M'BoylePort

A group of civilians were guests this noon of the officers of the U. S. Army Air Corps at the camp on the MacBoyle airport. Lieutenants H. Lane was host to the visitors which included Capt. Joe Blake, George Hammill, Lorris Richards of the California Traffic Patrol, Forest Supervisor Guerdon Ellis, Robert Deward, H. M. Leete, Miss Edith Scott, Chief of Police Max Solaro and City Councilman Frank Davies.

A tour of the camp was made under the guidance of Lieut. Lane. Tents which accommodate the ground crews of the air force contain six cots. Officers sleep two in a smaller tent. Dodge trucks with four wheel drive were a feature of the motor equipment, built very sturdily. They are used for all kinds of traffic including shifting the ground crews from one camp to another. In this camp the entire group numbers 185 men and officers.

The camp on MacBoyle's airport is one of four in the state, for this particular air group. The others are located at Sacramento, Stockton and Fresno.

After luncheon today state traffic officers and U. S. Army pilots engaged in an impromptu pistol shoot. It was an army pilot that finally split a card inserted edgewise in a fence post, at a distance of ten paces.

The food for the luncheon was excellent, and the visitors were informed that it was the same for both officers and privates mess. Pork chops and applesauce were served, with hot coffee, fruit and vegetable salad and all the fixings, including plum jam.

The gesture of good will by the 135th Pursuit Group came last night after hundreds of men and women of the two cities showed their hospitality to the visiting army men by entertaining them at Lake Olympia.

Last night's dance and entertainment was sponsored by civic and fraternal organizations of Nevada City and Grass Valley.

THEY HOLD THE BRIDGES

On his official visit to Californai last week, the assistant attorney general of the United States leveled his sights particularly at those labor union groups having to do with the movement of goods. "The middleman of labor who have seized and occupied the economic toll bridges of distribution," he termed them. "And the cost of that seizure," Arnold warned, "if uncurbed, will be colossal."

It was not defense strikes that Arnold had in mind but the exploitation of low-income consumers through unfair labor practices. In Washington D. C., he reported, the drivers' union threatens to cut off deliveries to certain stores selling 5 cents a loaf bread unless they increase the price to 7 cents. In Chicago, milk wagon drivers have sought to prohibit use of paper bottles and store sales of milk. In Lower Manhattan today it costs $112 more to distribute a car of fresh produce than it does immediately outside of this area of consumer exploitation.

Labor has indeed proved that in unions there is great strength. It is now time for certain elements in Labor to prove they mean to use that strength for the common good—and not at the expense of it.

IS THIS TREASON?

Soon after United States troops had taken over at the plant of the North American Aviation Company. William Pupis, one of the hot-headed strike leaders, defiantly exclaimed to reporters:

"If we had half the equipment that the boys with bayonets had we could have given them cards and spades and all the argument they wanted."

Translated that amazing statement means that Mr. Pupis and his beef squad stopped short of fighting the United States Army only for lack of rifles and machine guns. In other days, such talk would have been called by its right name—incitement to insurrection. In the days of Abe Lincoln it would have been called treason. Yet, Mr. Pupis, so far as we can learn, is still at liberty; still claiming all the priviliges of American citizenship.

We are glad to note, however, the stern warning of Secretary of the Navy Knox that subversive elements, whether in labor unions or out, will be "proceeded against as enemies of the country." When an arrogant strike leader openly declares that he would take on the United States Army—if he had the guns to do so—it is high time, as Mr. Knox asserted, that "the challenge of subversive and communistic groups be accepted."—Contributed.

they are for all-out warfare against Hitler before he wipes out their "spiritual" (God save the mark) homeland.

The effect on Spain may be to hearten the falangists, kho hate the Reds even more than they are hated in this country. It is possible that ragged, hungry and crippled Spain will muster a few divisions to join Hitler in his battle against Russia and, it may be, against the Allies. But Spanish aid to Germany is less an asset than liability.

Japan at this moment is taking stock of the new war. Japan may decide that it will oncounter less difficulty in carving out living room in Siberia. Some commentators believe this will be their decision, rather than risk a war with the United States in adventures southward. Treaties among these skulking thieves mean exactly what they mean to Hitler or Mussolini. The Russo-Japanese pact, in fact all the pacts made by the dictators are subject to bloody revision without notice.

A footnote to the credit of Stalin: He was as ready as ever the Russian is. His troops massed along the German border may hold for awhile, but with prodigal casualties, for like all Asiactics Stalin holds human life extremely cheap. His slaughter of his army command three years ago snuffed out the last flickering intelligence of the Soviets. His troops must now fight blindly with little or no planning, relying on the primitive instincts of the beast at bay. But when one ponders an estimated 12 million Russian soldiers, their mere mass may slow up the German machine for some months. That is probably the best hope of the free peoples.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Woods of Forest a former local resident, spent Tuesday and yesterday on business here.

DR. OERTEL TAKES CHARGE JULY 1 OF PLACER JR.

Dr. Ernest E. Oertel, superintendent and dean of Placer Junior College, will arrive in Auburn July 1 to make his home and to begin the work of arranging for the 1941-42 registration at Placer Junior College.

Dr. Oertel believes the junior college has a definite function to perform in connection with the national defense program.

"We find that many young people these days are undecided about what to do after they finish high school," said Dr. Oertel. "Some believe that because of the numerous urgent and persistent calls to action issuing from the workshops and materiel supply fields of the nation it is something less than virile to go to school after the age of eighteen."

"Others who could profit by training on the college level prefer the immediate pecuniary gains afforded by a job to the long term value of extended schooling."

"Unless they can not help themselves because of economic circumstances, this latter group obviously is following a short sighted policy. Those described in the first classification might be justified in assuming such an attitude if they were living in a totalitarian state, but their point of view simply can not be justified in a democracy such as we have in America."

"For in a democracy education is all-important. A minimum of education is absolutely essential, and it is impossible to have too much. The more sound education there is in a democracy the more chance there is for democracy to survive, to persist, to endure."

STATE YIELDS TO FEDERAL CLUB IN OLD AGE FUNDS

By JOHN W. DUNLAP
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, June 26.—Grudgingly, the state of California has conformed to the demands of the federal social security board that state laws conform to federal rulings or millions of dollars will be cut off as of July 1.

Individual members of the legislature complained about the interference from Washington the club of $38,000,000 in federal contributions to old age pensions was too much to ignore.

The main point in the emergency legislation was that aid to the aged cannot exceed $40 a month, inclusive of other regular income which the recipient may have, except in cases where the actual need is found to be more, in which case $40 may be contributed exclusive of other income. There is a limit of $50 per month placed on the blind.

The argument was made that old persons and the blind should be encouraged to earn outside income, perhaps eventually reduce their pension payments. On the other hand, the point is made that California already pays almost the most liberal pensions in the nation and perhaps some curb should be imposed to prevent too many old persons from coming west to retire.

At any rate, the state has conformed and the flow of federal dollars will continue.

TRAFFIC DEATHS IN STATE REACH NEW HIGH IN '41

SACRAMENTO, June 26.—Automobile deaths in California for 1941 appeared today from records of the Department of Motor Vehicles to be headed for an all time high record.

Reports for the first five months of the year ending May 30th show 1,243 persons lost their lives during this period, a gain of 180 or 16.9 per cent over the corresponding period of 1940.

The reports indicated more than 23,000 persons received injuries in traffic mishaps during the same period, a gain approximating 27 per cent.

At the present rate of increase the total for 1941 will exceed 3,500 department officials stated. The highest number of record was 3,139 in 1937. The 1940 total was 3,034.

The upturn in business conditions with the consequent increase in the use of motor vehicles was held the primary factor in the increase by Director James M. Carter.

"Unfortunately, high accident ratios and prosperity go hand in hand" he said.

U. S. BUREAU TO BUILD SALMON ROAD AT SHASTA

SACRAMENTO, June 26.—(UP)—The U. S. reclamation bureau office here announced bids will be opened July 14 for construction of an 11 mile "salmon road" in southern Shasta County as part of the Central Valley water project.

The road, which will connect a county highway near Balls Ferry and a point near Darrah Springs on Battle Creek, will be used by iced tank trucks for transporting salmon to be trapped at Keswick dam near Redding. Under the contemplated salmon salvage program the fish will be taken to holding dams on Battle Creek where they will be stripped of their eggs. The eggs will be hatched in a new hatchery and will supplement the natural spawning areas of the salmon.

Specifications for the road call for 115,000 yards of dirt to be excavated and construction of bridges requiring forty million board feet of timber Contractors will be given 170 days in which to complete the work.

RAILWAY LABOR UNION DEMANDS WOULD COST 900 Million Dollars A YEAR

THE labor unions have made their demands upon the railways of the United States—and through the railways upon the PUBLIC. These demands are vastly larger in proportion than any they have ever made. The economical and efficient operation of the railways is vital to the nation's defense effort. Therefore, the Western Railways present to the public the following facts:

The labor unions representing engineers, firemen, conductors, brakemen and switchmen are demanding a 30 per cent increase in wages, amounting to 190 million dollars a year—although their present rates of pay are the highest in history.

Other unions representing a greater number of railway employees are demanding wage increases ranging as high as 95 per cent—averaging 47 per cent—and amounting to 580 million dollars a year—although their present rates of pay also are the highest in history.

Thus the wage increases being demanded by the labor unions amount to 770 million dollars a year, an average increase in excess of 41 per cent.

In addition, certain of these labor unions have demanded advances in their pay not included in the above figures, and more rules for the creation of unnecessary jobs.

The situation, then, is this: The total cost of complying with all the demands made would be approximately 900 million dollars a year!

The average weekly earnings of railway employees are now 15 per cent higher than in the peak year 1929, while the cost of living is 12 per cent less.

The demands of the railway labor unions are being made when the entire nation has just been asked to make a supreme effort for National Defense.

The railways cannot meet these demands without a great increase in the cost of transportation. They exceed by more than 700 million dollars the income that the railways had left after paying their annual expenses, taxes and charges in 1940.

The railways have a vitally important job before them. They need all their resources to continue adequately to serve you and contribute effectively toward the National Defense Program.

SRA RELIEFERS LACKING FUNDS MAY NOT SUFFER

By JOHN W. DUNLAP
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, June 26. — The major goal of opposing factions seems to be trying to pin the blame for the legislature having failed to appropriate relief funds. As a matter of fact, the damage may not be as great as was first supposed, and there is little or no possibility that anyone will starve.

Now that the heat has cooled off, and tired minds and bodies have rested a bit, it appears the credit (or blame) for the relief action rests rather equally on both sides.

The anti-Olson bloc was determined to kill the SRA. It finally did by the expedient of withdrawing funds, although even these legislators were anxious to vote support to the counties.

Despite governor Olson's protestations that he made five concessions which were turned down, he was not willing to give an inch on the life and death of the SRA.

Without going into the merits or demerits of the opposing arguments, it appears that relief is no longer a problem on most counties. National defense industry and private employment have reduced the SRA to a minimum of those who probably wouldn't have jobs in any event. Some rural senators reported only six, or 12, or 17 cases in the entire county, yet there was an SRA organization set up duplicating the functions of the county social welfare department.

The situation is different in the larger counties, particularly in Los Angeles, where exactly one half the relief cases were registered, about 13,000 cases. The supervisors estimated it would cost them about $7,000,000 to care for these persons, although the change in control may force off the rolls many undeserving persons who otherwise might be working.

The governor cannot gainsay the fact that the SRA was his only major state department where there was no civil service to interfere with patronage. There have been a good many party democrats given good jobs in the SRA, some good appointees and others of no value except from a political standpoint. It is only natural that a governor would disapprove the death of such an agency.

The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "Our Master said, 'But the Comforter—shall teach you all things.' When the Science of Christianity appears, it will lead you into all truth. The Sermon on the Mount is the essence of this Science, and the eternal life, not the death of Jesus, is its outcome" (p. 271).

WITH YOUR ASSEMBLYMAN THURMAN AT THE STATE CAPITOL

The fifty-fourth session of the state legislature which adjourned last week was on the whole a conservative one. Few, if any, radical measures were introduced, while on the other hand many conservative measures were approved by the legislators. Likewise economy was again uppermost in the minds of the legislators as it was in the 1939 session. What few appropriation bills were passed were of an emergency nature.

Of the 4000 measures which were introduced, 1010 assembly bills and resolutions were approved while 602 measures introduced in the upper house were approved.

The highlight of the session was the approval by both houses of the "hot cargo" and secondary boycott bill and later following the veto of the measure by the governor, the overriding of the veto by both houses. The measure was bitterly opposed by union labor and was strongly supported by agriculture and business.

Other statewide issues which came before the legislature was the reapportionment measure which was finally approved by both houses and was signed by the governor; the relief measure which would have returned the administration of relief to the counties, which the governor vetoed; an appropriation of $2,000,000 for new teaching hospital at the University of California Medical Center which passed both houses; several defense measures including the creation of a state defense council, and the new sabotage laws.

No legislation injurious to the Sixth Assembly District was passed by either house, while several measures of benefit to the district were approved.

The writer, being a member of the ways and means committee of the lower house, was able to secure with the help of other rural legislators, additional funds for the division of forestry and the fish and game division. In fact the fish and game division budget when it was finally approved by both houses amounted to more than was in the original budget As a result of funds restored to the fish and game budget, a new hatchery will be built at Hot Creek in Mono County.

Funds restored in the division of forestry budget in the ways and means committee will permit the fire suppression crews to function properly while the salary increase restored by the senate and approved by the lower house will permit the divison of forestry to secure sufficient men to serve on the suppression crews.

Another important fire suppression measure which the writer was able to have approved by the ways and means committee and the lower house was a bill by Senator Dillinger appropriating $48,500 for the repair of fire truck trails, roads, fire breaks, bridges, and telephone lines which were damaged by the storms of last winter and spring. Of this amount $816 was allocated to Mariposa County.

Two other important forestry measures were also passed in the closing days of the session of particular interest to this area. One was a measure eliminating the two cents per acre tax relating to fire patrols of forest land and the other was an appropriation bill allocating funds for forest protection against white pine blister rust.

No measures injurious to gold mining were passed by the legislature and the one bad bill which had to do with the resurfacing of dredging operations never came up for consideration.

The district and county fair allocation of monies from the horse racing fund was protected and no diversion of this fund was permitted by the legislature.

On the whole, the rural legislators we believe, protected their districts against harmful legislation and were able to secure funds for important functions in their districts.

In closing this ,our last letter, we desire to thank the publisher of The Nevada City Nugget for his cooperation in allowing us this space each week to endeavor to tell the people we represent some of the important issues which came before the legislature. We have tried to serve you well and to the best of our ability.

John Winnemucca of the Piaute tribe at Pyramid Lake, Nevada, is beating one of the tribal drums for the Reno rodeo July 4, 5, and 6. One of the colorful features of the Reno rodeo is the large delegation of Piautes which attend, taking part in the great free street parade July 4 and in the grand entry each day. Dressed in their buckskin costumes, with faces painted, and wearing bright headdresses, the Piautes play an important part, staging a thrilling Indian pony race each afternoon of the show.

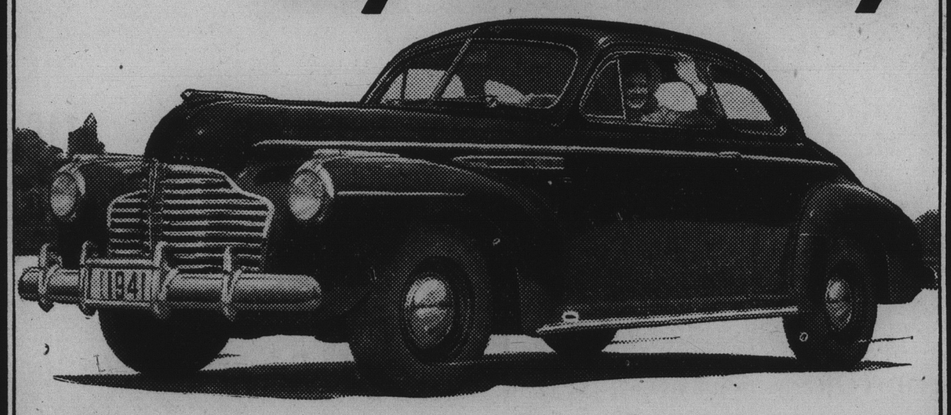
Home-Stretch Spurt Any Time You Say



PLENTY of men can run a mile around a cinder track.

But those who win races—and championships—are the ones who can turn on the plus when it's needed.

Probably that's why you hear so much these days about Buick's exclusive Compound Carburetion.†

It gives you an engine that will cruise right along with the distance runners and pile up plenty of miles for your gasoline money.

But any time you want plus-performance—a home-stretch spurt—just step down on the gas treadle.

Instantly, you send an extra carburetor into action. You step up the supply of both gasoline and air—and virtually give yourself a bigger engine to get you places in a hurry.

That means thrills—plenty of them.

It means, also, efficiency—proper use of every drop of fuel without useless waste.

It bears out the Big Point about this 1941 Buick—that on size, style, comfort, room and ability, it's far and away the top value of the year.

To see how true that is, just go size one up against the low delivered prices your nearest Buick dealer is asking.

$930 for the Business Coupe (illustrated above) including Compound Carburetion, delivered at Flint, Mich. State tax, optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices and specifications subject to change without notice.

†Available on Buick SPECIAL models at slight extra cost, standard on all other Series.

Federal Grand Jury Indicts Three Postal Savings Theft Suspects

Arthur Yarborough, 24, and George Jones, 46, both of this city, will go on trial tomorrow in federal court in Sacramento on charges of forging and altering five postal savings certificates, stolen from Florence Dodge in this city.

Federal Judge Harold Louderback will preside at the trial. Previously the two men reportedly confessed to federal agents and had indicated they would plead guilty. Monday they were indicted by the federal grand jury in Sacramento.

Carlton Orzalli, under indictment for stealing the bonds, has pleaded guilty. He will be sentenced at the conclusion of the trial for Yarborough and Jones.

The Nugget in its Monday's issue erroneously printed the name of Raymond Yarborough as one of the accused. Raymond, who is to leave in July for a year's military training was in no way connected with the theft or conspiracy to cash the postal bonds.

Contingent Of Eight To Leave Here In July For Military Training

The eight military training selectees from the Nevada County Selective Service Board No. 22, who will leave July 9th, have been announced by Clerk Merle Morrison.

The men will go to the induction station at Sacramento, leaving the courthouse here at 7 a. m. on the ninth.

Those to leave for the training are:

Mose Adam Ferguson, Julius John Mazzanti, John L. Marks, Halsey Dustin Ward, Harry McKnown, Johann K. Hissong, Volney E. Sparks and Raymond E. Yarborough.
